

MISS BAADER GIVES VALENTINE PARTY

Merrymakers at Alexandria Entertained—Mrs. Mary Daniel Passes Away.

WASHINGTON TIMES BUREAU, ALEXANDRIA, VA., FEB. 15.—A valentine party was given by Miss Bertha Baader at her home in King street. Among those present were Misses Mollie Chauncey, Addie Smith, Jennie Smith, Norine Smith, Ruth Hishley, Mary Schoen, Virginia Ponnet, and Bertha Baader. R. J. Power, James Schoen, Peter Schoen, Elmer Thompson, John Haley, of this city, and William Thaler, of Washington.

Mrs. Mary A. Daniel, wife of John A. Daniel, died at her home, 219 Cornwell street, last evening. Mrs. Daniel was sixty-one years of age, and is survived by several children. Her funeral will be held next Thursday, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Burial will be made in Bethel Cemetery.

Mayor Paff has issued a call for a special meeting of the city council for this evening to consider the new building regulations.

Hesekiah Henderson has sold to William H. and Adeline A. Helms a house and lot on the east side of Alfred street, between Oronoko and Pendleton streets.

Mamie C. Rishell has sold to Edna C. Davis a house and lot on the east side of Columbus street, between Cameron and Queen streets.

M. L. Rishell has bought, through F. L. Slaymaker & Co., a lot of ground at the southeast corner of Queen and Columbus streets. It is understood that Mr. Rishell will erect a handsome residence on this lot.

In the corporation court Judge Louis C. Barley presiding, this morning, a decree was entered in the case of Rosa Pavlani and others vs. Giuliano Dolcini, ordering sale of certain property and appointing Charles Bendheim and R. D. Brumback commissioners of sale.

John G. Woolley, the great temperance orator, will address a temperance meeting in the First Baptist Church Sunday afternoon, at 3 o'clock. The public is cordially invited.

There will be special services under the auspices of the Junior Guild of St. Andrew at St. Paul's Protestant Episcopal Church this evening, at 8 o'clock, at which the sermon will be delivered by the Rev. Dr. Angus Crawford, dean of the Episcopal Theological Seminary.

ENGLISH GRAMMAR CHANGE FAVORED

Danish Linguist Would Put G. K. on "It Is Me," and Others.

CHICAGO, Feb. 15.—Henceforth you may say "It is me," not only without fear of being branded an illiterate, but with full authority for the assertion that it is more logical, sensible and adequate than the grammarians' insistence on "It is I." Hereafter you may give voice to "it is I" and "it is me" and "it is we" which the grammars require is a needless affectation.

These are two items in the proclamation of emancipation from the grammarians which Prof. Otto Jespersen, the Danish linguist, has brought with him from Copenhagen.

"As grammar has been taught in the schools," he explained, "it has been merely a set of hard and fast rules, a long list of don'ts which the student must learn and invariably observe. While I am in America I am trying to emphasize the new attitude toward grammar. This looks upon language as a living, growing, developing means of expressing ideas. It is constantly changing and growing better as a means of communication."

"Our languages have by no means reached their full development, and they are bound to go on changing and improving as long as people talk. The old idea that grammar is something absolute and unalterable is entirely mistaken."

Prof. Jespersen declared that the changes which grammarians have found themselves powerless to resist have been in the direction of greater simplicity and uniformity.

"The sentence, 'It is me,'" he said, "has been established in your spoken language for 200 years, in spite of the fact that your grammarians have fought it and have been able to keep it out of your written language. 'It is me' is much more logical than 'It is I,' and shows the trend toward uniformity constantly going on. The tendency here is always to have the objective case after a verb instead of having two different kinds of verbs, which is really unnecessary."

"Insistence on such construction as 'If it were' is also entirely uncalled for, and the fact that 'If it was' comes much more naturally to most people shows the movement toward greater simplicity. There is no shade of meaning expressed by the subjunctive that cannot also be expressed by the indicative, and the natural tendency is to drop the subjunctive."

"The goal toward which languages are working is the furnishing of a means of expressing our ideas with the least linguistic friction, and anything that calls our attention to the thought and is to that extent bad. That is the main objection to insisting on such things as 'It is I' and 'It is we,' when the other forms are more natural, and we use them unconsciously when we are not thinking of our words. Our attention is turned from the sense of our speech to its form, and we become stilted and affected."

Concerning lo, the new universal language, of which Prof. Jespersen is the author and which, he declares, is more simple and easy to learn than Esperanto, the Copenhagen professor spoke enthusiastically.

"Lo makes use of more of the forms that are already universal," he said. "The trouble with Esperanto is that it is based too much on the Latin and employs too much that is obsolete."

Prof. Jespersen is in Chicago to deliver a series of lectures at the University of Chicago.

WIFE OF ZELAYA TO REMAIN HERE

Daughter-in-Law of Deposed President Prefers Peace to Near-War.

While her husband beats racism for the hordes of Cuba, and her father-in-law keeps clear of a rebel bullet, while planning to regain hold of that dear old Nicaragua, Mrs. Alfonso Zelaya and her son are with her father, Dr. W. W. Baker, 191 North Capitol street.

Mrs. Zelaya returned recently from the Central American country, bidding her husband farewell at Jamaica, where he started in on a tour of the islands, money being the main reason for the trip. With her eighteen-month-old son,

Mrs. Zelaya continued on to this city. It was not until the Zelaya hold on Nicaragua was all but a thing of the past that the Washington girl got homesick. Until then, she found plenty to amuse her in the quaint city of Managua. But when the people turned on Zelaya it was deemed advisable for Alfonso and his family to leave. So they left Bluefields for Kingston, where they parted.

Mrs. Zelaya says her father-in-law has been treated unjustly and that the country will go to ruin without his aid. Mrs. Zelaya declares that she will never return to Nicaragua.

According to Mrs. Zelaya, her husband's artistic temperament has never been cultivated by his father. Alfonso's ability on the piano, she says, is natural, and she feels sure that he will become celebrated.

Mrs. Zelaya's homecoming was a surprise to her parents. She says that now that she is here, she will stay, for she likes Washington better than Nicaragua.

STRAWBRIDGE GETS VERDICT
PARIS, Feb. 15.—Justus C. Strawbridge, of Philadelphia, who was hurt in an auto accident on the way to Biarritz and who subsequently sued the Society Routiere, from which he hired the car, for $20,000 damages, was today awarded $14,000. Mrs. Strawbridge, who was also hurt, got $2,000.

VICTIMS OF WRECK AT MACON HOSPITAL

Five Dead Are at the Morgue—Others Expected to Live.

MACON, Ga., Feb. 15.—It was stated at the City Hospital today that all of the seriously injured persons brought in early today from the wreck nineteen miles south of here, that tied up the Georgia Southern and Florida railway for several hours last night, probably will recover.

The bodies of the five persons killed in the wreck are at the local morgue. The wreck, which was a head-on collision between north and south bound passenger trains, was caused, it is alleged, by the failure of the crew of the north-bound train to obey orders and wait until the other train passed them at Bonair.

The dead are:
W. J. Yates, engineer.
A. R. Johnson, flagman.
Conductor I. B. Ingals.
A. L. Dufree, Kathleen, Ga.
Unidentified white man.
The trains were not running at a high rate of speed when the wreck took place, but they met on a curve, so that neither engineer had any warning. Several hours elapsed before relief reached the scene, and women passengers bound up the hurts of the wounded with strips of cloth torn from their own underclothing.

SUES FOR DIVORCE.
Failure to support her and their young child is charged by Mrs. Camille W. Moser, who today brought suit for a limited divorce from John J. Moser. They were married in Rockville March 22, 1906. The wife is represented by Attorneys Stearnman and Loughran.

DIVORCED WIFE GETS $1,200.

DES MOINES, Feb. 15.—The will of the millionaire theater owner, William Foster, bequeaths $1,200 annually to his divorced wife, Mrs. Louisa W. B. Foster, of New York.

In event of her marriage or death the clause in the will becomes void.

Your Kidneys Will Act Fine and All Bladder Distress Vanishes

A few doses regulate out-of-order Kidneys and end Backache.

If you take several doses of Pape's Diuretic, all backache and distress from out-of-order kidneys or bladder-trouble will vanish, and you will feel fine. Lame back, painful stitches, rheumatism, nervous headache, dizziness, irritability, sleeplessness, inflamed or swollen eyelids, worn-out, sick feeling and other symptoms of sluggish, inactive kidneys disappear.

Uncontrollable, smarting, frequent urination (especially at night) and all bladder misery ends.

Feeling miserable and worried is needless, because this unusual preparation goes at once to the disordered kidneys, bladder and urinary system and distributes its healing, cleansing and vitalizing influence directly upon the organs and glands affected, and completes the cure before you realize it.

The moment you suspect any kidney or urinary disorder or feel rheumatism pains, begin taking this harmless medicine, with the knowledge that there is no other remedy at any price, under any other name in the world, which will effect so thorough and prompt a cure as a fifty-cent treatment of Pape's Diuretic, which any druggist can supply.

Your physician, pharmacist, banker or any mercantile agency will tell you that Pape, Thompson & Pape, of Cincinnati, is a large and responsible medicine concern, thoroughly worthy of your confidence.

Only curative results can come from taking Pape's Diuretic, and a few days' treatment means clean, active, healthy kidneys, bladder and urinary organs—and no backache.
